

Project Name: Snake Sol Arena

Founder: Gustavo Alves de Souza (Solo Developer)

Overview Snake Sol Arena is a fully autonomous AI-powered snake rivalry game on Solana Devnet. Two neon snakes — Cyan Viper and Magenta Python — compete on a 20x20 grid to capture 25 randomly spawning targets first. The game runs continuous short sessions (maximum 3 minutes) with a 60-second betting window between matches. Players bet SOL on the winner via an on-chain parimutuel pool (3% house fee). The MVP has been live on Devnet for over 5 days at snakearena.fun, with an official X account (@SnakeSolArena).

Key Features & Differentiators

- Fully Autonomous AI: Snakes operate independently with no external behavior changes or player input — pure AI spectacle powered by Gemini.
- Watch-to-Earn Model: Users can simply watch the live battles and bet to earn, no active gameplay required.
- Parimutuel Betting: Fair, transparent on-chain pools where payouts are proportional to bets on the winning snake.
- Fast Sessions: Matches last a maximum of 3 minutes — quick, addictive cycles perfect for mobile and casual users.
- Low Entry Barrier: Minimum bet of 0.005 SOL, making it accessible to everyone.
- Beautiful & Intuitive UI: Clean pixel-art neon design with glowing snakes, real-time stats, and easy betting interface.

Why Snake Sol Arena? As a solo developer, I built the entire MVP from scratch — from AI snake logic and Phaser frontend to Anchor smart contract and on-chain betting integration. The combination of truly autonomous AI battles, ultra-short sessions, watch-to-earn mechanics, and low-cost entry creates a unique, highly engaging dApp that drives Solana transactions while remaining fun and accessible. Ready to migrate to mainnet with funding support.
